

KING OF NEWSIES FALLS TO DEATH UNDER A TRAIN

Harry Blanche Was Trying to Break Record for Journeying Over Country.

TRAVELLED 20,000 MILES.

Breezy Youngster Knew Art of Selling Papers to All Sorts of People.

Word flashed along Park Row early today that Harry Blanche, "King of the Newsboys," who won his title by traveling back and forth across the United States and selling newspapers in 20 cities in a 20,000 mile circuit, had been killed at Saratoga. After all his risky journeys on brake beams, on the underground refrigerators of dining cars, in engine tenders, he slipped from the platform of a Barnum and Bailey circus train on which he was riding to Glens Falls. The King had been taking what he called a vacation by following the red wagons this summer.

Blanche was twenty years old and a sport. Early last year he heard that "Noodles" Fagan of Pittsburgh earned his title of "King of the Newsboys" by traveling over 5,000 miles and selling papers in twenty different cities.

"All right," said Blanche. "I'm going after that title and take it away from him." And by the standards of competition which he understood to prevail he succeeded.

Starting without a cent in his pockets on June 1, he stole rides and sold papers in a zigzag across the Continent. He reached Reno in time to sell newspapers and lemonade at the ring side. The little bundle of possessions found beside his mangled body on the Delaware and Hudson tracks at Saratoga last night was wrapped in a square of canvas matting, which he had cut from the ring in which Jeffries was beaten by Johnson. There were more than thirty papers, showing membership in newsboys' clubs all over the country and a package of newspaper clippings. Blanche had some queer sayings to his credit, among them:

"You can travel six or seven hundred miles in the coal box under the diner if you are little. If the coal is in the way, why throw out some coal."

"Selling papers is just like selling bonds in Wall street. Pick your customer. If he looks like a broker or a railroad president, holler. 'Terrible Extry. Horrible Disaster. P. D. and Q. pass a dividend.' He'll buy all right. If it's a flock of fly chickens, holler: 'Pittsburgh millionaire sued by a chorus girl.' They'll all fall for it."

The King's headquarters here were at the Newsboys' Home. Arrangements for his funeral were being made there today.

FOUR POUNDS OF WATER TO GET HIM ON THE FORCE.

"Light" Applicant for Police Job
in Chicago Found the Way to Make Weight.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Four pounds of water may be the means of securing a position on the police force for a man who yesterday took the examination before the Civil Service Commission. The applicant, who was four pounds too light in weight, just before he entered the weighing room drank a trifling more than four pounds of water.

Another applicant was a quarter of an inch short of the necessary height and succeeded in stretching himself to the desired height by hanging for half an hour from a horizontal bar. The names of both men were placed on the eligible list.

Gen. George W. Gordon Dead.
MEMPHIS, Aug. 10.—Gen. George W. Gordon, Commander-in-Chief of the United Confederate Veterans and member of Congress, died at his home here yesterday. His illness dated from his last political campaign, when he was re-elected to the National House of Representatives, the last general of the Confederacy to serve in that body.

George Washington Gordon was born in Giles County, Tenn., Oct. 5, 1836. He served with distinction in the civil war. At the close of it Gen. Gordon studied and practiced law.

Cruiser North Carolina Winner.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The armored cruiser North Carolina today was declared victor in the engineering contest in the navy, an honor coveted by every vessel of the battle-ship class which participated in the competition. This will be the welcome news to greet the cruiser when she arrives at New York in a few days with Secretary of War Stimson, returning from Cuba and Panama, on board. She will be presented with a handsome bronze trophy.
